

Do not remove the protection provided to residents of Indiana from unsolicited calls by declaring the federal law to supercede our law. Our law is much stronger and is wanted by over 8.4 million telephone subscribers in the state. This is a state issue and not one for the federal government to meddle with.