

I fully support the proposal to eliminate requirement for Morse code proficiency for access to the HF amateur bands. The next, logical step is to adjust the "CW Sub Bands" accordingly. There is no longer any justification for limiting access to such large portions of the HF bands to a mode of operation that decades ago passed from being essential to merely being quaint. It would be much more sensible to expand the voice and digital sub bands to accommodate current trends.

Pete Sneed - K2YSY