

I agree with the FCC to remove the 5wpm testing requirement to obtain a license, however I am concerned that this will lead to band restructuring which will eventually remove the use of CW on any of the ham bands.