

I'm a Continental Airlines President's Club member. I think they should be allowed to offer free internet access in their club lounge. Their system allows me to quickly connect and do business. Systems that charge fees for access are frequently not compatible with my companies network security system and I can't use them.