

I believe that allowing unlicensed use of the 700mhz band for data communications will allow more homes access to high speed internet in a cost effective manner.