

I think we need these TV channels for broadband because it is hard to provide broadband to rural areas. The lower frequencies will give us longer distances with fewer towers. I also do not think these frequencies need to be bid on.