Kevin Martin
Chairman
FCC

Dear Chairman Martin:

I fly over 200,000 miles per year and I use a cell phone.

However, I want to protest against the possibility of allowing cell phone use aboard airplanes.

When passengers are in the air and defenceless I think the FCC must ban the use of any device that will cause discomfort and annoyance to other passengers.

If there was a way to get out of the airplane to avoid the jabbering of cell phone users then it would be acceptable. But when you are locked up in an airplane there is no place to hide.

This is a terrible idea!

Sincerely,
