

I think that there should be more and better quality closed captioning on TV as well as in movie theaters. I recently went deaf and i loved going to the movies and now its so hard to find a theater that will put on closed captioning. It makes me upset and i miss out. We are so advanced in technology that i don't think it's that difficult to handle. Deaf and hard of hearing people are very interested in what goes on in the world and this is their only way to do so. Please consider this issue!
