

I believe the amateur radio service can better serve the public in time of emergency by maintaining at least a five (5) word per minute code requirement for the extra class license.