

Please DO NOT take away all the code requirement. This is an integral part of being an amateur radio operator and the elimination of this requirement will "dumb" the current operators and future operators. This will not bring in more operators, this will just make future operators lazier and less disciplined...which is not the goal.