

Please eliminate the Morse Code requirement for all licenses.

I have read the WT-Docket 05-235 and I wish that some of the people that are making comments against it would read it. They would see that they are not losing any frequencies. I have been a ham for around 30 years, an extra and a VE. I know of several people who have hearing handicaps that cannot distinguish the letters when they are sent together, these people have the technical knowledge, would have no problem passing the written test, and have a great deal to contribute to the hobby. The ability to do code has nothing to do with how good of an operator you would be, that is determined by common sense and common curticity.

Again I ask you to pass the WT-Docket 05-235 proposal as soon as possible, thus eliminating the code requirement.
