

Captioning is very important to me because it's the only way I can understand what is going on during a television show or a news broadcast. This is very important to me because I am hearing impaired and I cannot hear the television or understand what the speaker is saying. It's just like hearing people can hear, but we can't so, reading the captions make up for it. It also makes it fair between the deaf and the hearing. Captioning is the only way we can have an access to have an understanding with whats happening in the world around us (in case of an emergency, we have access to know whats going on if there were no captionings we would be clueless). Also what annoys me is that when there is a show or a news broadcast that is airing, the captions will be working but then it'll get messed up or it wont show up at all and I'll miss out and that really makes me really upset. If captioning was taken away, many deaf people would be very upset and it would shut us all out from having an understanding with what is going on in this world. Please try to fix this.
