

No profound new justifications have been stated in the comment period of this NPRM to continue the Morse code test (Element 1) for any class of amateur radio license. Therefore, I suggest that the Commission immediately publish an order announcing its deletion from the testing process. This is long overdue since the WRC2003 conference removed what the Commission stated in 2000 as "the only remaining legal reason" to retain Morse testing.

Richard L. Tannehil, P.E.

Amateur Operator Since 1961

W7RT