

I have noticed that some programs displayed closed captioned texts that were not clear or delayed. My "hearing" roommate and myself watched "Commander in Chief" and was told that the CC texts were showing many mistakes. I strongly encourage any professionals to start improving their typing skills before he or she is qualified for the position.