

As a small library director in a mixed income district, I agree with the ALA comments to greatly simplify the e-rate process. The current process is cumbersome and non-intuitive, which means errors when I complete forms only once a year.