

The advertising for "Hostel" (movie about torture?) in prime time on a broadcast of an NBA basketball game is incredibly graphic and inappropriate. I don't generally advocate censorship, but it should not be broadcast into my living room and foisted on me in the middle of a basketball game. I have lost my ability to choose appropriate content for my family.