

CW is the mode most likely to get through adverse conditions natural or man-made. No one is truly accomplished in radio without even rudimentary (i.e. 5wpm) skill in this most basic mode. It needs to remain a requirement at least for the Extra Class. With today's off the shelf stations and open exams with all questions available before the test, amateur radio will become a less restricted form of CB.