

The removal of our traditions, change for the sake of change and the general lowering of standards is leaving our society very weak. Dropping the morse code requirement on many Amateur licenses is a cowardly act of not standing up to the hordes who want everything for nothing. This slipping is inviting disaster someday when we have another serious event in our country. For generations society has been able to count on a pool of trained radio operators. We have seen time and time again that higher technology is not a substitute for the basics in a time of crisis. People appreciate what they earn and disrespect what is given easily. Please keep morse code
