

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

This has been a year we won't soon forget.

Hurricane Katrina took from countless people so many of the things we hold dear- home, community, friends, and family. While the rebuilding work continues, now, more than ever, it is important that those putting the pieces back together have ways to stay connected to the people who matter most.

For this reason, T-Mobile is a proud participant of the Federal Communications Commission's "Lifeline Program." Through this effort, individuals still affected by the hurricane can receive a free wireless phone and service* from T-Mobile. It's one of the ways we are trying to help those affected get back on their feet. We know it will never be the same again, nor return to "normal." However, the comfort of remaining close to friends and family during these difficult times is one step toward a brighter future. To learn more, you are invited to review the details provided below, or visit a participating T-Mobile retail store. Enrollment in this program will continue through March 1, 2006.

From our family to yours, we wish you peace and strength this holiday season as we work together to rebuild and help those in need.

To receive your free Nokia 6010 phone and 410 minutes*, you must:

- At the time of Hurricane Katrina, have been a resident of an Alabama, Louisiana or Mississippi county that the Federal Emergency Management Agency ("FEMA") has designated as eligible for individual housing assistance.
- Have no obligation to repay any FEMA cash grant for housing.
- Be the head of your household.
- Receive only one Lifeline Program package from T-Mobile or any other wireless provider.
- Provide a valid photo identification and a letter or other documentation from FEMA showing that you have been approved for disaster housing assistance (or, as an alternative to such FEMA documentation, provide a copy of a bank statement or deposit slip showing a FEMA deposit in your bank account).

Existing T-Mobile customers affected by Hurricane Katrina and who qualify under the Lifeline Program are also eligible for account credits or a replacement handset.
