

open the attachment.

I strongly believe all VRS regardless who the company is to work together to be able to communicate one to another with any brand of VRS. The money from TRS goes to any of company that provides VRS. Should be the same way with cellphone or any telephone that work to have equal communication access. All VRS equipments should work together to communicate one another. Not block each other. Collect funding from FCC thru TRS should work together. Not against each other. All VRS should work together regardless who is the company.

George A. Adams III