U.S.-CAMBODIA ROUTE EXEMPTED FROM THE INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS POLICY

IB Docket Nos. 02-324, 96-261

By the Chief, Policy Division, International Bureau:

The U.S.-Cambodia route is hereby exempted from the International Settlements Policy (ISP) pursuant to the ISP Reform First Report and Order and sections 0.51 and 0.261 of the Commission's rules.¹

On March 11, 2004 the Federal Communications Commission adopted the ISP Reform Order that revised its policy and rules to remove the International Settlements Policy from benchmark-compliant routes. In that Order, the Commission identified ninety-six routes that clearly qualified for exemption from the ISP pursuant to the new rules.² Through a series of public notices, the Commission subsequently lifted the ISP from a number of additional routes once it was satisfied that U.S. carriers had negotiated benchmark compliant rates on those routes.³

With respect to the remaining routes, the ISP remains on a route until a U.S. carrier files an effective accounting rate modification pursuant to section 64.1001 of the Commission's rules, demonstrating benchmark compliance, as required by the ISP Reform Order.⁴ On April 20, Nov. 4, 2004); U.S. Angola Route Exempted from the International Settlements Policy, Public Notice, DA 04-3905 (rel. Dec. 14, 2004).

⁴ See ISP Reform Order 19 FCC Rcd at 5724, ¶ 30. See also Additional U.S.-International Routes Exempted from the International Settlements Policy, Public Notice, DA 04-3518 (rel. Nov. 4, 2004).

2005 and May 2, 2005, we received accounting rate modifications, filed pursuant to section 64.1001, indicating that AT&T had negotiated benchmark-compliant rates on the U.S.-Cambodia route for January 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004.⁵ On June 16, 2005, we released a public notice, announcing our intention to remove the ISP from that route.⁶ No comments were filed. Accordingly, we lift the ISP from the U.S.-Cambodia route. A complete list of routes that now are exempt from the ISP is set forth in Attachment A.

Copies of this Public Notice, Order, and pleadings are available electronically on the Commission's web site at www.fcc.gov.

Petitions for reconsideration under section 1.106 or applications for review under section 1.115 of the Commission's rules may be filed within thirty days of this Public Notice (see section 1.4(b)(2)).⁷
