

I support the ACA petition. Creditors should be able to call debtor's mobile phones using autodialers and recorded messages. Congress did not intend the TCPA to prevent creditors from efficiently collecting valid debts from consumers. The FCC has also consistently drawn a distinction between telemarketing and collection calls when interpreting the TCPA and should explicitly do so now.