

I have read the comments and wanted to add my thoughts. Cell phones are not and should not be subject to exemption from effective regulation against being subject to automated calls or calls of a commercial nature. I have a cell phone for emergencies and every call on it costs, including calls to check my messages. Please do not permit our present protection to be degraded.

Nathan