

I urge you to insitute a rule requiring cable systems to carry multicast programming offered by local television stations. Broadcasters were asked years ago to convert to digital transmission at great expense and were told at the time they would be able to offer more programming. Broadcasters are prepared, but the cable systems now threaten to be a significant bottleneck or outright prevention of distributing that programming.