

To Whom it may Concern,

In Regards to the issue of changing the FM Translator origination rule, I feel that it would be a great advantage to the public if translators could originate their own programming. In recent years I have seen a lot of the rural areas loose their Broadcasting stations to Larger markets. (I.E. Evanston, Wyo, and Randolph, Utah stations covering Salt Lake City) now most of these markets do have translators and would be less likely moved away, and more likely to stay serve a small market and the citizens of that area. Lately the game being played by most Conglomerates has really left out small market radio and this would be an excellent opportunity to return the airwaves back the people of Rural America.
