

I do not understand why the FCC has been giving up its mandated responsibility to the American people by allowing the same handful of individuals to control multiple media sources in the same market (and indeed across many markets). Have you yourself noticed that diversity in local radio broadcasting has fallen to zero over the last several years. The FCC is supposed to PREVENT this, not aid it!

Please be more vigilant about protecting American airwaves from monopolies.
It is better for business, and it is better for freedom.

Thank you.
