

Government should loosen regulations on the media and NOT create more. Government should step down from regulating the media. Let the free market be free. There should be as little regulation of the media as possible.