

Please do not increase governmental control of the airwaves. Society functions more fairly and more efficiently when people can make their own choices about what programs to view or listen to on television and radio. We already have more than enough governmental control over our lives. We need less, not more.