

Of course I want the right to watch what I wish to watch. What's next, taking Conservative Talk Radio off the air? I don't want anyone controlling what I watch. America, the land of the free--that's what I believe in. However, I do wish the government would step in and not allow any media to embed themselves with our troops while they're fighting a war. No reporters should be there, it's a war-zone. Anything a reporter sees and reports on could easily be colored by that reporters' own bias. Abu Ghraib is a prime example. I personally do not wish to know how our troops' extract information from captured terrorists. I want them to do whatever is necessary to ensure that they come home safe. That is the only instance where the government should regulate the media. God Bless Our Troops!!! Their sacrifices are greatly appreciated by people like me. God Bless America and Our President!!!
