

The free market serves freedom and America best. Regulation to limit choices is contrary to the free flow of information. All legislation should be directed at deregulation of the broadcast market.