

This is absolutely ridiculous. Can we give the american public some credit for having the intelligence to choose for themselves? We are not idiots. We do not need more government interference.