

I get the majority of my media from diverse sources, whether foreign and independent movies accessed via Netflix, podcasts, blogs which point me to various news various news sites, or network and cable TV. I need MORE choice, and this means I need LESS government trying to curtail choice in the name of "diversity." Media is diverse enough and is diversifying on its own as it is. Leave it alone.