

I support open competition within the cable and telephone arena of operations...Too much control in the hands of the few is bad for the American public...Thanks, Charles Culberson