

I am in full support of the federal Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) taking over financial responsibility for the five national suicide hotline phone services. These hotlines are of vital necessity to our population that has 20,000 suicides a year not to mention the untold number of attempts. Please approve this request by SAMHSA to provide the financial support for these organizations.

Tom Barlett