Re: WT Docket No. 01-309
Punxsutawney Communications, LLC (Pocket Communications)
Petition for Limited Waiver of Section 20.19(d)(2) of the Commission's Rules filed September 18,
2006, as Amended
Withdrawal of December 29, 2006 Request for Further Relief

Dear Ms. Dortch:

By petition filed September 18, 2006, Punxsutawney Communications, LLC ("Pocket Communications") requested a limited, short term waiver of Section 20.19(d)(2) of the Commission's rules until the earlier of December 31, 2006 or the date by which it is able to offer two compliant T3/T4-rated handsets.<sup>1</sup> On December 29, 2006, Pocket Communications requested a short extension of its requested relief through January 20, 2007, by which time a second compliant handset was expected to be fully available to Pocket Communications' customers.<sup>2</sup> By this filing, Pocket Communications is pleased to notify the Commission that the company has determined that it was fully compliant with the Commission's rules by the end of December 2006, and that the December 29th filing is now moot.

Based on information now available regarding the T-ratings of its handset offerings, Pocket Communications has determined that it achieved compliance within the terms of its original September 18th waiver request. Specifically, Pocket Communications began offering the Motorola V3c (T4 - FCC ID IHDT56FT1) in July of 2006, and the Motorola KRZR (T4 - FCC ID IHDT56GH1) in late December 2006, at all of its company-owned and -operated stores. Thus, Pocket Communications no longer requires the additional relief requested on December 29, 2006. Pocket Communications also notes that it has since been able to supplement these offerings with additional T4-rated handsets, including the Nokia 6165i (T4

For these reasons, the December 29th filing has been rendered moot and Pocket Communications hereby withdraws it. As demonstrated herein, in its original Petition, and in its November 2006 Report, Pocket Communications has worked diligently and in good faith to come into full compliance with the Commission's rules and has met the terms of its initial waiver request.

Please contact the undersigned at (210) 447-1201 if there are questions concerning this filing.

Respectfully submitted,
