RE: Docket #07-16

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Our citizens with lower economical means are often left trailing when internet service is priced above their capacity. Our minorities are at risk and we must take heed and make a stance to protect these hard working citizens, their children, and the overall economy for all Americans.

Please extend access to the internet to all Americans regardless of their economical status or residential location. Providing a free nationwide service would extend the world of information, commerce, and opportunity to all Americans and help us close the gap between the minorities and the more fortunate in our society.

Sincerely,

Erik R. Fleming
State Representative
