

Today, closed captions are not too difficult or too expensive. No program should be on television without closed captions. This church must not take sound for granted. For 25 years, the deaf and hard of hearing Kentucky community has been wondering what the heck they were saying with NO captions. The law requiring closed captioning was passed in 1996. The FCC established closed captioning rules in 1998. This church had EIGHT years to come up with a solution addressing this requirement. Please do not give them a waiver. Surely, they can find a donor within the Lexington community to support this federal requirement.
