

I am writing this letter to express my feeling about captioning issue for deaf people. When I watch TV, I do require close captioning for every show that I watch.

If there is no closed captioning, then why bother having an audio sound for the hearing people. If the T.V. companies can not provide closed captioning, then why bother having audio, so it can be fair for all of both hearing and deaf people.

In order to understand this, this issue will never stop until there is solution, closed There are about 30 millions deaf and hard of hearing people in the nation, and all of them would require closed captioning to watch TV. They would complain the same as I did if a TV channel or shows do not provide any closed captioning. We would like to see every channel to have closed captioning no matter what it is. It is very important for all people to see captions on TV because it may help the people learn something from the TV that can be related to real world, such as news, education, and current events. Please, let all people to be equal to all and do the right thing.

Sincerely,

Daniel Johnson
