

In regards to Mr. Ward's petition to reconsider, I have used the ECFS a number of times using my callsign in some form and have found no evidence of his alleged deletion or suppression of public comments. It is up to the person submitting the comment to ensure that it has been received by reviewing the comment list. If it does not appear, then it is the responsibility of the commenter to resubmit, not to allege a conspiracy. Mr Ward must know that the Commission can only be accountable for what makes it to the Commission's system intact and properly formatted. I would urge that the Commission reject his petition to reconsider.
