

I fully support RM-11306; Regulation by Bandwidth and the deletion of 97.221C(2). The FCC should reject the widespread promotional efforts of a very few who use false data and scare tactics to keep the Amateur Radio service from moving forward. Vision and courage are needed to create the regulatory environment which both enables and encourages the Amateur Radio service to develop and deploy modern digital communications; a proven and important capability for emergency communications.

Although the ARRL has revised RM-11306 to exclude the HF bands, I wish to continue to support the deletion of 97.221 C (2) in order to enhance the radio Art.
