

Can you at least stop the advertising for violent television shows and horror movies from bombarding my family during prime time and sports programming. I have to keep the remote in my hand at all times so my children (and myself) don't have to witness disgusting and explicit ways to kill, torture or hurt someone. Horror/crime show advertisers are using extreme shock techniques to get viewers attention and sometimes I am not quick enough with the remote control to switch it off before our eyes/minds are violated with this filth. I have seen billboards advertising violent shows that are just as bad. I know people have a right to see what they want in the name of entertainment. How about my rights to not want to see it. People have a right to smoke, yet, non smokers have a right to not breath it in. I feel the same about violence.
