

Victor	Blasutta	43216	Please do not change this stations progressive format, allowing balanced information and uncensored public feedback in central Ohio is essential for an educated populace. Removing the progressive voice will only hurt your business and reinforce the public of your extremist right wing ideology. This change over is part of the Republican 2008 presidential race preparation. Clearchannel just recently went up for auction. Milt Romney's Bain Capital bought it along with Thomas H Lee Partners, but I'm not sure who owns them. So you can count on this new format spewing extreme right wing filth for the next two years. Unfortunately the FCC won't challenge this buyout even though there might be regulatory problems because the firms own positions in other media companies in Columbus.
Paul F.	Keaveney	43026	We already have enough right wing talk in Columbus. Let's keep some progressive talk on the air!
William	Buckingham	43055	Maybe the station would do better if you would put some money behind it and advertise. I have never seen a billboard or commercial for it. This is the only station I listen to. If it goes I will not tune into any Clear Channel station again. I can get Ed and Stephanie with Sirius. This stinks because it proves again how unbalanced the media is favoring the right. Shame on Clear Channel for even thinking of adding more crap and liars to the airwaves.
Margaret	Farrell	43212	We already have enough right-wing radio in Columbus.
Dave	Daniels	43113	It appears that politics has won out over profit and logic. 1230's "new" listeners will only be "stolen" from their sister station WTVN. I don't think that Laura Ingraham, or Michael Savage will "convert" too many progressive listeners. Hopefully some other station will see the potential and return progressive talk to Ohio's most progressive City!
Prof. Cary	Rader	43055	I have been trying to support the advertisers on Progressive Talk Radio. I will listen to this new format just long enough to find out which stores and products to boycott. (One week should do it.) I will tell everyone I can to boycott this radio station. I did this when channel 6 (Sinclair) tried to broadcast its right wing propaganda just before the 2004 election, and I am still.

sherrie	cunningham	43123	Please keep Progressive 1230 as it is. I cannot believe you are changing formats!
craig	cunningham	43123	Please keep 1230 progressive and as it is.
Suzanne Porter	O'Sullivan	75068	Isn't it about time the owners of these stations realize that we listen to the progressive talk radio, all day, every day. I have supported the advertisers on my local station, but it got sold to the rich folks, anyway. We will still find the stations no matter where you take them away, or how many you take away.
Alex	Peet	43230	Keep AM 1230 the way it is because it's the only progressive radio station left in the great state of Ohio
Nancy	Krick	14414	This is just another example of the Right's desperate attempt to keep control when the people have spoken through the November election. Clear Channel is wrong, both ethically and practically. We who have been so disenchanted with the current White House bandits demand to be able to have our voice heard. We are the fast-disappearing middle class and see this latest move of Clear Channel as evidence of the Right's fear of any opposing voice. How dare you?!
MARC	GUTHRIE	43055	PROGRESSIVE TALK NEEDS A HOME IN CENTRAL OHIO. I AM A REGULAR LISTENER OF YOUR STATION BUT WILL DISCONTINUE LISTENING WHEN PROGRESSIVE TALK IS TERMINATED. BALANCE IS VERY IMPORTANT AND WITHOUT PROGRESSIVE TALK ON YOUR STATION THERE IS NO BALANCE LEFT IN CENTRAL OHIO. THOUGH I CONSIDER MYSELF A POLITICAL MODERATE, I AM A STRONG ADVOCATE FOR BALANCE.

narta	eger	3439	Please reconsider - reinstate progressive radio.
sherry	robst	3232
Christopher	orenowsky	3202	It is shocking to me that my voice will no longer be heard via progressive talk radio in Central Ohio. With almost 55% of the votes cast for statewide an was over 58%. This move is clearly political. I constantly asked how I could be noted as an official listener of AM 1230 to no avail.
Linda	orton-Smith	3215	I recently moved to Columbus from the Akron area--home of "Radio Free Ohio"--and I was pleasantly surprised to find that Columbus was also mature enough to support a progressive radio station. Alas, my judgment was hasty. Anyway, doesn't the world need another backward-looking, hate-mongering, reactionary radio station? Don't you need a root canal?
lack	lcCord	3232	I have been listening to 1230 am since its change to the progressive format. I was thankful for the balance it provided after years of total right-wing Keep 1230 am progressive and get off your butts and start making some money!! Good Luck, I'm Pissed! OK.
Tom	oggia	3201	I'm a buckeye...went to OSU for undergrad and grad and you are making a BIG mistake by disenfranchising the democratic/progressive listeners that clearly spoke in the last elec if you only swing far rightward.
Carl	oward	3201	It was the progressive voters in Columbus who took the 2006 election by the horns and crushed the filthy, criminal dreams of right wing, extremist, anti-American degenerates in the GOP - and central to that victory was the radio voice in the wilderness of WTPG, the Air America Radio affiliate. Now we taken and in its place, yet another barking box for grafted, hate-mongering sociopaths of the extremist radio right. Evidently KKlearKhannel Radio has not noticed - or are simply not concerned - that talkers like Laura Ingraham and Michael "Savage" Weiner have suffered crushing losses of ratings, m p m the GOP to win back what it lost this past Election Day. If anything, this will just further solidify the voices of freedom against the well-financed tide of malevolent and criminal hatred that right wing media spews.
Terrence	/eddle	3221
Sue	iorsuch	3235	I may not agree with all that is aired, but at least it asks questions and offers a choice not often PC or main stream pablum. Please keep this station on the air!
Richard c.	ozian	5215	It is unconscionable for WSAI and Cler Channel to abolish the Progressive Voice of Air America completely from the Cincinnati map. I will be protesting to the FCC the systematic effort to silence the voice of Progressive shift to a lower power station from 1530 and then to systematically discourage supporters. It should not be tolerated in a democratic society. One bonus is that I have been able to return to public radio again.
VANCY	/ADE	3056	I listened to AM1230 every morning and evening on my commute to work. I appreciated its format and truthful news commentary. This is a disservice to Democrats and progressive thinkers to lose this progressive talk show - we have no source for our opinions and will be force fed the same old trite from the right wingers. I for one will boycott any sponsors or businesses supporting WTPG.

GARY	WADE	43056	Central Ohio needs at least one progressive voice. Rupert Murdoch and his strangle hold on the media are suffocating the majority of Ohioans who want to cast their Democratic voices and thoughts and offer a clear view of political events in America. WTPG should be boycotted and all of its advertisers until a true progressive program is returned to its loyal listeners.
Kristin	McCloud	43023	What a disappointment! My husband and I have been frequent listeners for two years. No more! Please keep progressive radio in Ohio!
William	James	47803	Please bring progressive radio back to Central Ohio!!

Vern	Porter	97210	Bring back big Eddy.. what are they afraid of... the truth..
Katherine	Canaday	43215	When I work in Ohio, I listen to AM 1230. My friend works as a poll worker in Columbus; during the Bush/Kerry election, Kerry was winning 792 votes to 8 in his district! Columbus is full of progressive thinkers. AM1230 offers a MODERATE point of view listened to by Democrats, Greens, Libertarians, Republicans, Constitutionlists and other parties!
Jill	Zimon	44124
Kent	Dusthimer	43068	I found out about AM 1230 from a friend and have almost totally stopped listening to music in my vehicals during the day. There's a huge opportunity for the owners of this station. There are conservative & sports stations already competing with each other. They have their own following. Instead of pulling the plug on AM 1230 progressive talk radio and immediately lose every progressive listener just to be low company on the totem pole with conservatives you should instead heavily promote progressive talk. The people are obviously here to listen they just need to know progressive talk is on this channel! One company can hold the ear of every progressive listener (read that buyer)in their market. Do the right thing.
Jane	Eyen	43235
Beth	Dent	43068	I hated to lose the Ed Shultz show and now it gets even worse??? I think the whole idea of not one totally progressive radio station in this hugely Democratic area is just wrong.
Louise	James	98221	What do you mean you can't sell progressive radio in Ohio. Hogwash.
Molly	Devenas	43055	Guess what Clear Channel; you have the chance to corner the market in Central Ohio. But because you' re not willing to stand up and work just that bit harder, you' re willing to let someone else stand up, and take that away from you. Stop putting PSA's after badly mixed PSA on the channel and do your job. Fire who ever was doing your sales for this station and look for some bright eyed bush tail that' s willing to fight. This state voted progressive. People are no longer giving in to your right wing station's big mouths. Progressive radio is not just a fad. Its reality, its the future. If you don' t believe that... then look you might want to look at the most recent election... the majority - are ones that listen to Progressive talk radio. PS: If you drop this channel, I will drop you. If you don' t think my station is of value, then I don' t think you' re worth my time. I don't have to listen to ANY Clear Channel stations. I can go to Sirius, or XM, or go download some
Alice	Rathburn	43231	Please don't take Air America away from the Columbus market. Anita	Beck	43085	The central Ohio community must have a choice in listening talk radio! I will never listen to nor visit the advertisers of the new radio format if you change. You at Clear Channel are not listening to the the people of Central Ohio and taking away this listening choice will only serve to solidify our progressive views and it shows that you are afraid of diverse and progressive thinking! Too bad, you are missing an entire audience and a chance to move with the future. Keep 1230 WTPG with its current voices or you will never have my listening or my dollars for advertisers!

Gail	Meese	43202	The people have spoken! Keep Progressive Talk Radio on WTPG 1230am! I listen to the station EVERY day and ALL day when I am home! It is a breath of fresh air in the right wing dominated PUBLIC air waves! This contemplated move to conservative talk can only be interpreted as pay back by the "Powers That Be" for Ohio going Democratic this November. Mr. Collins would be well advised to rethink this scheduling change as no one in Columbus will be listening to his station if he persists.

Emma	Snacker	43272	I sure won't listen to Hate Radio. Laura Ingraham and Michael Savage are hatemongering dolts who try to instill ignorance and hatred in their listeners. Put them on, I'll turn the radio off and hum to myself.

Are they going to replace the Discovery Channel in Cols with Fox news???
Timothy	Jones	98136	We are awash in an ocean of right-wing rhetoric. A progressive radio voice is needed everywhere to offer a choice, and a voice, to those of us wise enough to know to listen, passionate enough to speak out, and concerned enough to show we care by actions like these. Jim and Helen	ugent	43021	You must find a way to stay on. We need a balance of radio talk in this area. As a member of the Delaware Democratic Party I have been encouraging people to listen to Progressive Talk. What has surprised me is the number of people that did not even know that Progressive talk radio was on, but were very happy that I told them about it and were going to listen. I was chairman of the events committee for the Party and I called the station and talked to the program director. I wanted to offer free advertisement at the booths we had during the summer of 2006. One was the very large flea market in Sunbury. I was given a big banner to display but very few other items I could pass out to promote the station. The station could have even have been a part of the booth. But I was told that there was little money to promote the station. I contend that the reason for the low ratings is the low amount of money spent to promote the station. I talked to another person at the station and was told that they had spent $30,000 on promoting the shows. I assume that this is the amount over the entire time that the Progressive talk has been on. He made it sound like this was a lot of money. I have no idea if it is. But you must get people to be aware of who you are before you can expect them to listen and then to buy the products that are advertised on the station. I do not want to loose this station. It is the very life blood of good quality ideas and critiques of the American Agenda. Let me know if there is anything further I can do to help or for that matter the Democratic Party of Delaware County.. I will be sending this to all that I can that are members of the party and I will ask that this petition be posted on the website for the Party. Let us not let the eresas	akely	202	I began listening to talk radio when Air America was first broadcast in Columbus Ohio and I have become an avid listener ever since. Air America's thoughtful interviews with progressive journalists and political leaders provides a much needed source of political diversity in a community whose major newspaper is Republican owned. Clear Channel's dropping popular progressive talk radio in favor of right wing pundits that have little credibility and questionable integrity is suspicious, particularly at a time when listeners are voting with their radio dials and turning off the Bush propagandists. For the readers of this post I would like to offer a contextual framework that makes me doubt whether Clear Channel would modify their decision based on progressive listener input. Progressive talk radio likely contributed more than expected to the election of Democrats. Bush republican-aligned, media conglomerates may have felt compelled out of financial considerations to pull back progressive air time. Clear Channel just switched our talk radio news source from one that supports Progressives who are critical of media consolidation, to one that supports the Bush Republicans who adamantly support media consolidation. Can you say conflict of interest. Media conglomerates are major financial contributors to Bush Republicans. Bush Republicans protect the Media companies bottom line by holding up the passage of laws demanding a roll back of media ownership. Corrupt Media Companies return the favor by refusing to air progressive ads and by airing right wing funded, commercial free, docudramas ahead of elections. This is a dangerous merger of corporate media and government that could cost us our democracy. Corporate influence peddling poses a threat of Orwellian proportion, when the corporation that is buying influence is the information industry central to the health of our democracy. Whoever controls the media has the potential to control the people. Surely manipulating the political content of talk radio in local community violates Clear Channel's public service mandate. The airwaves theoretically belong to the people but are managed by corporations whose primary loyalty is to their corporate shareholders. We may need more public funded news outlets to maintain diversity of news outlets. Throughout history we have relied on a diverse media to serve as watchdogs of industry and government. When there are more media voice the likelihood that they could all be compromised or corrupted is diminished. Big Brother has already compromised the Federal Communication Commission (FCC). Someone destroyed a taxpayer funded research report that was critical of media consolidation. On June 2, 2003 the (FCC) voted to allow media outlets to increase profits through media consolidation. Corporate media coverage of this extremely newsworthy event was conspicuously absent. The fact that the major networks put self interest above the good of the public in this vitally important matter is cause for alarm. The only television coverage I saw on this issue came from public broadcasting. When the public finally got wind of this they petitioned their representatives. Legislators supported their constituents by introducing a bill to reinstate previous stricter limits on media ownership. The bill never

on	Gubits	20814	Clear Channel Communications Inc. is being sold to a group of private equity firms and is selling more than one third of the 1150 stations it owns. In the Wash DC area they own 8 stations that are affected. Article on Washingtonpost.com November 17, 2006 Business section by Frank Ahrens headlined "Clear Channel Sale to End Era." Headline search with quotes should find it on google. I have heard them read, probably FCC required, notices of the sale and license transfer giving the public an opportunity to view the file at their studios during business hours. If any stations in Ohio are affected I suggest trying to put objections to the format change into comments on the sale. They are using public airwaves and should provide opportunities for all perspectives. Oct 2007 is the 20th anniversary of the repeal of the Fairness Doctrine that used to require it. Also enclosed is a letter I sent to the organizer of the successful petition drive in Madison, WI that kept liberal talk shows on 92.1FM WXXM. WCKY 1530AM in Cincinnati comes in at night in Wash DC and at some time in 2006 it changed formats from "the radio revolution" to "homer the sports animal." Dear Ms. Valerie Walasek, I heard about the coming loss of the progressive talk format in Madison, WI on the Stephanie Miller show. Clear Channel also owns WCKY 1530AM in Cincinnati, OH that had progressive talk shows in 2005 but some time during 2006 their format changed to Fox Sports Radio talk shows and local sports. WXXM 92.1 apparently has a precedent for a format change. What were and are WCKY's progressive talk and sports ratings before and after the format change? Maybe Arbitron has a website where they are publicized, the Cincinnati Post or Enquirer websites have a radio ratings chart with the data or WCKY would disclose them. It could make the petition drive stronger if it refers to the same format switch in another city with at least a 6 month track record. Hope this tip of a similar situation in another city helps in Madison. Jon Gubits listener to Clear Channel owned "Progressive talk 1260" WWRC 1260AM in Wash DC Air America radio is the real "Voice-of-America" We need to fight to preserve it.

ames	Couch	5424	Since the cancellation of air america on WSAI 1360 and WTPG 1230 there is no radio station that represents my attitudes or interests on broadcast radio available in Dayton Ohio. I have signed up with XM satellite to meet the void. I have also decided to not listen to any clear channel radio station and to not purchase any product or service advertised on same. I also intend to inform said business of my decision and the reason behind it.

Chuck	Brown	45223	I can't believe we can now hear nothing but one side of the issues. I listened to Air America everyday! Clearchannel's bias is evident, I will listen to nothing they transmit.
Suzanne	Connors	43206	Stephanie Miller & Al Franken are my favorites ! If you want other crap - listen to 610 am for druggie Limbach & screamer Sean Hanassy or whatever !!
Julie	Henderson	43229	I have never before listened to talk radio, until Air America and 1230am Progressive Radio. I assure you I will never listen again if the format becomes just more of the drivel found elsewhere. Please, dare to be different and provide a forum for progressive views in Ohio.

michael	breen	43068	Do you think we upset the right with our 2006 democratic victories ? I guess this will be their strategy for 2008, eliminate any truth, open debate or progressive views from our airwaves. All we the listeners ask for is some programming that contains truth rather than propoganda.
Alan	Borchart	43146	Clear Channel: did your sales people (person?) try to get advertisers of products your progressive listeners may actually want (hint: not "hair grower" and psychics)?
Kathy	Borchart	43146	Air America was the best thing to happen to Columbus radio. It presented a voice not otherwise heard here and one that will be greatly missed!
Jenifer	Toth	43031	Progressive radio is important in Central Ohio. I listen to it everyday to ensure that I receive "the rest of the story". It would be a great loss to change the station's format to MORE conservative talk. The November 2006 elections should have sent you a clear sign that more Rush Limbaugh, Bill O'Riley and other talking conservative heads is NOT what we believe in nor what we want to hear. Once again Clear Channel has shown it is the lap dog of the conservative right. If you can't sell ads it is because you didn't try. Your true colors are ablaze.
Chris	Courtney	43026
David	Parshall	43081	Please reinstate and or save progress radio on 1230. We don't want anymmore sleezy radio hosts like Mikce Savage or Laoura Ingram. Both of with have disgraced themselves on the national secene. The airwaves belong to us all. I will work to spread the word the many independant, Democratic, centroal Ohio Majority that 1230 has been taken over by the Wing Nuts. Protest with you money. Let the sponcers of Air America etc know your displeasure.
Jim	Wade	43224	The decision by Clear Channel to switch from Progressive Talk to Conservative Talk is total bullshit! Columbus is one of the most Progressive cities in the U.S., and to take away our outlet away is bogus. First they take off Ed Schultz so he won't compete with the drug addict Rush Limbaugh, now they get rid of the whole station! Dirty sons of bitches! WE WANT PROGRESSIVE TALK, NOT RIGHT WING REGRESSION!
Anne	Kennedy	143035
Margarer	Schilling	143080	Mr. Collins and Clear Channel, just one auestion: Did anyone in your operation pay any attention at all to the general election results here in Ohio? The results were loud and clear--Ohioans are fed up with the right wing poison being forced on this country. We spoke at the polls! Apparentl you're willing to ignore the majority voice and proceed in your plan to air th constant whineing of the right wing "saviors" of America. Please re-consider this ill-conceived and poorly timed chanae in your broadcastino.
Barry	Benjamin	33418	I am an Ohio native that moved to Florida in 1996. I visit my hometown or Cleveland at least twice a year. I am very interested in keeping and getting more progressive talk radio in Ohio. We are blessed with some good progressive talk radio in South Florida where I now live. What can I do to help?

Joseph	oziura	44053	I am outraged that Clear Channel continues to sway me away from any of their outlets. I am tired of the ranting and raving of the conservatives but hope that more people get turned off by their continuing one-sided
Joseph	ppebaum	90039	It is vital that at least one progressive talk radio station remain on the air in Columbus. There are already many right wing talkers but only one WTPG. Apparently the ratings are good and this is an outlet for the MAJORITY OF PROGRESSIVE VOTERS WHO WON THE 2006 ELECTIONS IN OHIO. IT IS TIME TO BE FAIR. DO NOT STIFLE FREE SPEECH AND THOUGHT.
Theresa	om	43214	I am quite concerned about the change in the format. It has been a welcome alternative to the conservative right wing talkers
John	icCrystal	43220	Please keep progressive radio available in Columbus.
Carol	ole	43113	How strange this drastic change in format is taking place soon after the very important election of 2006. It seems free speech will now take a backseat to the right-wing agenda to which we have been subjected for years, very sad for the people of Central Ohio.
Barbara	ush	43023	There are enough right wing radio stations. I have been listening to Progressive talk radio since I discovered it about a year ago and now it is being taken away from me. How could this happen? I thought we had we were living in a country where all sides of issues were freely broadcast on our airwaves. I guess I'll have to just find progressive talk on the internet and forget radio altogether. Money talks and conservative right wing has the blood money.
Annette	ickner	45014	Ohioans need to hear the progressive voice. The elections in November clearly demonstrated that there is room for something besides the right wing slant that has been spewed for years. I am very disappointed at this decision. You may keep a few aging listeners, but you will loose your progressive audiende to other listening options and am/fm radios will be turned off. I for one have turned off the am/fm.

Crystal	eller	43040	I grew up without a t.v. as a child, and I know good talk show host didnt watch much of it either, I believe it made them better for it. Radio has always been my first love, and I know a good talk show host. Glenn Beck was the best, maybe not as wise as Rush, but so funny and talented. If I wanted polictical correctness I could turn to NPR, thats where Bob Conner should go. Joel Riley sounded just like B.C. this morning, when a man too up for Sadam, he said "ok, well thanks for the call" makes me want to scream! B.C. responds the same way, with no opinion, thats boring! If playing it safe and not offending anyone is your new motto, well you have lost me and about 100 people I personally know. Big Mistake... I will not bother with wasteing my time listening to no personality people who get way too offended because they lack a sense of humor, hey Riley people would rather hear you say you big idiot after you hang up then act so offended like a school boy on the air. I do like listening to you for a short while, but its not fair to you to try to fill such big shoes, you cannot do it. And no one is buying the crap about the excuses given for this change, especially the one you mention today about not hearing enough local news like school closings. Thats such a lie because we hear local updates constantly, sorry not good enough, were not dumb thats why we like Rush and Glenn. The liberal communistic people will eventually take over the radio and t.v. so they can control everything we hear and see, kinda like where Canada is heading. If you dont Fix this big mistake, you will loose too

ine	oye	3085	This radio format has been very popular here in Columbus. Why would you think of changing it? Please leave 1230 as a progressive talk station. We really rely on it. We also patronize the sponsors and will continue to do so in the future so long as you leave the format the way it is. Thank you.
aureen	cCarthy	3214	The recent elections were just the beginning... the future is progressive. Don't leave now. Progressive radio is needed now more than ever!
ather	denweller	3229	I feel that it is important that media stations uphold a certain respect to represent fair and just programming like, Air America, even if the opinions represented vastly differ from someone else's. Diversity is the key to enlightenment. Bruce pay attention to the latest presidential popularity polls and know your markets current trends. People are fed up with the pushy narrowminded loyalty act and our remembering to think for themselves. Do the same.
an	'ankel	1701	I'm from the Boston area, where Clear Channel deliberately kept AM 1200/1430's signal weak and avoided virtually all local programming and local advertising. Then, without warning, they switched off the progressive programming and boosted the signal. Apparently, Clear Channel has a nationwide strategy that has little to do with what audiences want to hear.
aren	cGuire	3230	As part of the majority of more liberal listeners in Central Ohio, I am very disturbed that you would change the format of WTPG-1230am. If you do so you will lose a listener. Please reconsider and keep the programing that yo currently have.
lyson	ones	3210	Democracy means hearing all sides and then deciding....if only one side is heard how can an informed decision be made. The air waves are PUBLIC, held in trust for same, and should be used to inform the public.....of all side of the arguement. The people of Columbus (and all of America) need to have a variety if points of view presented so they can make informed decisions. It would be a severe blow against everything this country was founded upon to allow a one sided take over of the airwaves here, as has happened in other places. It would amount to single control of all broadcast media...and the PUBLIC airways would become one sided propaganda
aron	ox	3210	Stop this nonsense
ay	ox	3210	PUBLIC AIRWAYS!!!!
rdia	icClay	3110	Save WTPG-1230AM Progressive Talk Radio & what it stands for: DEMOCRACY, and any truth that our country still has left to its name.
isela	raster	5223	The Keystone of a Democratic societv is the ability to air opposing viewpoints in order to make INFORMED decisions. The public airways mu remain free...not be used as a laundromat for our brains. Hmmmmm...perhaps you can have the pharmaceutical companies run continuous ads on your station...efficient...brainwashing and pharmacological bliss. Aldous Huxly must have been a profit..."There will be, in the next generation or so, a pharmacological method of making people love their servitude, and producing dictatorship without tears, so to speak, producing a kind of painless concentration camp for entire societie so that people will in fact have their liberties taken away from them, but wi rather enjoy it, because they will be distracted from any desire to rebel by propaganda or brainwashing, or brainwashing enhanced by pharmacological methods. And this seems to be the final revolution."

ish	Marriott	15601	Society should have access to conflicting viewpoints and ideas, in order to weigh these differences, and make decisions independently. *Democracy is defined as a government in which the supreme power is vested in the people and exercised by them directly or indirectly through a system of representation. -- If the airwaves are flooded with rightwing information only, It seems that there will be an absence of balance. A plane cannot fly with one wing, nor can our society.
line	Ailey	15205	My stepson is a student in Columbus, Ohio and he and the other students deserve to hear progressives and a diversity of views, otherwise they won't become well-informed voters and citizens of Ohio or anywhere else. They will become Rush Limbaugh dittoheads.
ndres	Rejeda	11902	Boston Progressive talk am 1200/ 1430 was switched to a Spanish music station. at	McMond	15365	I travel across the country for business. It is depressing to drive cross-country and have no flavor on the radio. I am sick of country music and soulless inane blathering idiots passing for "discourse" on our airwaves. ClearChannel does not have the right to dominate our airwaves nor make radio worthless. Now, Cincinnati may be a little harder sell than Columbus --Cinci is considered the "south" in Ohio. But, Columbus has a vibrant intelligent and progressive community. The need and the MARKET is there for progressive radio. It's time the FCC gets some teeth and we expand consumer choice in our airwaves. Clear Channel isn't the choice.
everly	Lachuga	13204	I will no longer listen to this station after Jan. 8. Columbus already has the other stuff on 610. The people that are supposed to be on with the new format are fox news nuts and in order to keep my sanity I will have to leave the radio off.

arriet	Nannyonga	43210	Please consider retaining 1230AM as progressive talk which I tune into daily and religiously. Central Ohio market already has a number of talkers advocating for the right-wing position. It is a poor business decision to ignore a new potential market represented by progressive talk in a town that votes primarily to the left - talk about blowing against the wind. I believe that the station has not really promoted the progressive shows and that any shortages in revenue are in fact a representation of lack of a good marketing strategy. I can count the number of times I have learned of promotions made for the current shows The day the station turns to the proposed right-wing format will be the last day I tune into 1230.

Never before have I felt my quality of life would be affected (for the worse) due to a change in radio programming. Please reconsider replacing my favorite progressive talk radio people. I'm definitely not interested in listening to Jim Quinn, Laura Ingraham and Michael Savage. Until progressive talk radio came to Columbus, I never listened to radio except while in the car. 	affell	3081	At least progressive radio was on the air long enough to help dump the Bushies. And what a welcome change of pace it was, so different from the Mays' family's usual right-wing thugs and slugs -- personalities and callers alike. If the change is made, I plan to listen just long enough to identify the advertisers, so I will know what products and services not to buy.
	ullarton	3215	Is the proposed change from progressive to right wing based on the politics of the station's owners, I wonder? Obviously a rhetorical question. So, count me out of Talk 1230. We've had enough stuff stuffed down our throats in the last six political years to last a lifetime.
Wendy	Stewart	3147
Barbara	Wright	3705	We were successful in Madison to get Clear Channel to keep the Air America format. Don't forget that the airwaves belong to the people and the media companies have a responsibility to the public to provide programming for the free exchange of ideas and to provide a public forum for debate. That is how we maintain a strong democracy. Coming so soon after the election, these sudden changes in radio format must be seen as what they are, an attempt to silence the debate and ideas broadcast by Air America and a kind of corporate censorship. Keep fighting for free speech and progressive ideas in Ohio!!
Phyllis	rose	0120	The America I once knew was one in which opposite points of view were welcomed in order to promote a dialog, and get people thinking. We were once a thinking nation. Not so any more. My observation is that since the mid-term election, the right wing conservatives are desperate and terrified that people are beginning to think and understand nuances.....that the spin they've put on everything isn't true. There is a vast audience of progressives hungry to hear and join in discussions of opposing points of view. And we don't want to hear that anyone can call and voice their opinion on the "new" proposed lopsided station. How naive the owners of the station think we are to believe that. Progressives have heard that kind of propaganda from radio stations for years. It's old news and just another lie. There is a huge, hungry progressive audience out there willing and anxious to support advertisers who are dedicated to the cause of freedom of speech. They're passionate to hear the opposite point of view to the right wing talk radio they've been exposed to for so long with no opposing view. Would a business pass up the chance for their bottom line to prosper?? Progressives are loyal to advertisers and will gladly support them. This station would be missing a huge piece of the advertising dollar pie. How

T.M.N.	Smith	43215	According to Clear Channel' s 30 year-old " Creed :“ . . . We believe we have an obligation for the well-being of the communities in which we live. We further believe the future success of our communities and the industries where we do business is dependent upon the responsibility we feel, the high standards we set and the positive impact our actions have. . . “ [http://www.clearchannel.com/Corporate/PressRelease.aspx?PressReleaseID=1165&p=hidden] I guess we' ll just have to see how committed Clear Channel and its founder, Mr. Lowry Mays, are to the Creed, which obligates them to act in the best interests of the community. Wait! . . . wait!: what' s that light? Oh, Mr. Lowry! Stephanie is calling you to the light!!!! Bless progressive radio!!!! You are saved!!!! ("Teacher says, "Every time you hear a bell, an angel gets his wings!") But seriously, we can be your best friends or your worst enemies—your advertisers' too, by the way. Now, we don't want a fight. (Hey, we're progressives!) But we know our mind, and we want our programming as it stands. Take seriously the responsibility expressed in your "Creed oe	Davenport	98125	Well you are truly showing that you care not about open discussion. You currently have a different product which people WANT. Instead you retreat to what you know. This is a commercial mistake. It will cost you to move to the ebbing side of the tide. I've met many people from Ohio in the army and in in my union work(AFSCME). They are open minded, and fair-please give them the information to make the choices based on total information.

loward	Dock	43214	Shame on Clear Channel. There was a time where we can listen to different points of view, and the truth. Not listen to propaganda from just one side of the political spectrum. This is what corporate radio has become. What happened to the Fairness Doctrine by the FCC ? Apparently it is fair as long talk shows in the markets they are in. Clear Channel feels that it is not their audience, or THEY do not know how to sell Progressive Radio.
oger	Digel-Barrett	43068	Central Ohio already HAS enough right-wing talkers. This state went Democratric in a big way in November, and we liberals have earned a radio voice. You're using the PUBLIC airways, so give the majority public a voice!

I want to here Stephanie Miller, Al Franken, Ed Schultz, Randi Rhodes and Rachel Maddow every day. I will not listen to Laura Ingraham and Michael Savage. I will not listen to the radio. I will instead stream alrarnerca radio from the internet. Goodbye WTPG, i will never listen to you again. It is a sad day in america when politics determines what people hear on the radio. In fact, the management of WTPG appear to be anti-American right wing ideologues. Our country is paying a high price for the neo-conservative insanity that has hijacked the real america. Right wing radio is in large part responsible for the downfall of the standing of America in the world.

Please don't do this to Ohio because it'll make it more difficult for us in Kansas to begin AAR. You are a leader in having AAR, one we look toward as a way to bring AAR to us, please don't end AAR. All we have in Kansas is right-wing radio and we don't need anymore of right-wing radio: we need more AAR radio - everywhere. Thank you. Peace

John	rites	3220	Wtpg will not increase income with a change in format. Actually, Stephanie Miller has in the ratings for her time slot in the past. Others have completed equally. If this is because of lack of advertising, show us a list of who refuses to advertise on this station. This appears to be same tactic attempted in Madison.
Ron	ensen	5203	I don't understand why advertisers don't want to reach 58 percent of the market. I don't understand why they apparently are afraid of offending 42 percent of the market, but not afraid of offending 58 percent of the market. This should be a selling point for the station's ad salespersons: Advertise on conservative talk radio and you keep reaching the same 42 percent of the market. Advertise on liberal talk radio and you get your message out to the other 58 percent, who are not hearing your message now. They have money to spend on buying your products, too! Don't you want to make that 58 percent aware of you and your product?
Louise	ioielli	5242	We have lost progressive radio in Cincinnati, I hope you can keep yours in Columbus!

Debra	rinker	3017	Progressive radio is important to provide balance, and to provide a response to the many conservative radio and TV shows.
Tom	eck	3085	It's pretty simple for me. If Mr. Collins and Clear Channel persist in abandoning the 1230am Progressive Talk format, I will just delete 1230am from my radio dial and make every effort to avoid any companies and their products or services that choose to support the changed format. When the ownership and control of all media rests in the hands of the few, the erosion of free speech and a free press are a natural consequence. We can either stand now to protect the diversity of opinion and ownership of U.S. radio and television airwaves as well as internet neutrality or forfeit our constitutional freedoms.
Gene	/est	2107	To deny access of progressive talk on the public airways is to deny freedom of thought and speech.

	hoodman	13016	I can't believe you are changing WTPG format. The November election clearly shows that Ohio is clearly a majority progressive state. This is particularly evident in the Columbus. The free market of opinions in Columbus is decidedly progressive. This make no logical business sense not to have a radio station addressing the concerns of this market. These people do have money to spend and needs and desires that can be marketed to through radio. Just on this basic, fundamental analysis you are making an error in judgment. I have listed to WTPG from its inception. You did not give the station an opportunity to survive. Why was there no local personality? No local promotion through other media outlets? (ie local broadcast TV, newspapers..) Your effort to promote and grow market share to date have been half hearted at best. Can you prove to your investors that you made a good faith effort with their money? Another error is that you have made this a "zero sum" equation. Why on earth would you do this? Why not save some of the progressive shows? Why not make an honest effort to capitalize on this market?

jim	barton	43764	This does look like a vendetta against a democratic win in this state. Bill	Wood	43081	Stephanie Miller is the best thing on the air in central Ohio. Who needs another me-too conservative talk station? These comments should demonstrate that you have listeners who will support advertisers for progressive talk.

william	westerman	47012	Just as the electorate is starting to distrust the "party line" reported in black and white, based on talking points, radio listeners are increasingly expecting to hear a variety of political opinion on radio. This market niche should be a opportunity for astute corporate media managers to tap into a growing and significant market segment. After years of the same old predictable and redundant shouting on talk radio, many listeners are craving other than right/wing propagandato form their own fair and balanced view of our country and its leaders and policies. An excellent example of this is the following op/ed piece by Al Franken, responding to the common conservative complaint that the meida ignores the "good news from Iraq. Franken sees the various hues of a story and the complexity of war reporting. Al Franken: Little miracles, big mess Many of our troops are frustrated that the positive work they are doing goes unreported. And yet ... Al Franken Published: December 31,2006 KABUL, AFGHANISTAN When Laura Bush complained the other day that the media don't cover the "good news" stories in Iraq, I found it literally incredible that anyone in this administration could continue to blame the media for Americans souring on this fiasco. After all, as you might recall, there was "no doubt" about the stockpiles of WMD. The Mission was Accomplished in just six weeks. There was no insurgency,just a few "dead-enders." Then the insurgency was in its "last throes." A week before the recent elections, the president said we were "winning" the war. • Yet many Bush administration supporters (talk about "dead-enders") still bash the media for not reporting about the many Army and Marine units that bring school supplies to children around Iraq. They may not realize that, as has been widely reported, Iraqi principals begjournalists not to cover these stories for fear of their schools being targeted by insurgents. Perhaps, as I suspect, their ignorance is one of partisan convenience. • I'm writing this on a C-17 cargo plane as I leave Iraqi airspace on the way to Afghanistan. This is my fourth USO tour in the region, and I always try to learn as much as possible while focusing on my primary mission-- telling a few jokes to, and spending some time with, the men and women in uniform who are away from their families and face incredible danger every day. One thing I've learned on this trip is that many, if not most, of the troops share in that frustration and anger toward the media and what they see as its focus on the negative aspects of the war. Their feelings are understandable. Every day, our troops get up and work with tremendous dedication and courage to roll the boulder a little further up the mountain. There are literally hundreds of thousands of positive stories to tell. These are the micro-stories of this war. Just a few I've encountered myself: A medic treats a 12-year-old Iraqi boy in Baghdad. Progress is made on a sewage system in Ramadi. A JAG officer works with Iraqi judges to build a provincial judicial system in Tikrit. But the journalists in Iraq have a responsibility to the American people to report the macro-story. The 12-year-old boy had been caught in the crossfire as troops struggled to maintain order during another spasm of sectarian violence. The (depressed) infantryman who told me about the sewage system had lost friends while working out of a small combat operating base in town. The JAG officer confided that he believes we made a mistake invading Iraq in the first place, but that if we left now, the violence in the already chaotic country would explode. The truth of the matter is that the Bush administration has made enormous and tragic mistakes at every stage of this debacle. It overplayed the threat from Iraq and undersold the price, in lives and resources, of a war. It failed to plan for a post-invasion Iraq, ignored the threat of an insurgency and allowed a shoddy reconstruction rife with fraud, abuse and sheer amateurism to sabotage our efforts to put the pieces back together. Worst of all, it has failed to admit to its mistakes or adjust to emerging realities along the way, leaving us in what now seems to be a no-win situation. On Dec. 16 I attended a memorial service in Mosul for a 29-year-old gunner who left behind a wife and three young daughters. It was wrenching. More than anything, I wanted his sacrifice to have meaning. More than anything, I didn't want there to be even one more widow made to raise three girls who'd lost their dad

Please lead the trend and protect the majority progressive voice in radio! The good you do will come back to you, and more.
inda	Wood	3081	to the powers that be at wtpg--I am not an AM radio listener by nature except for your station as it exists now. We already have a full-time sports talk station right up the dial and your big-time wattage station in town already has conservative talk (I believe, since I don't listen). This tells me you are changing for the sake of change and not to improve 1230's ratings with something better. Go through with it and I say good-bye permanently.
ric	Resnick	4705	I am frequently in the Columbus area weekdays. There's plenty of garbage right wing radio available in the central Ohio listening area. WTPG is a breath of fresh air when I'm in town, and I suspect he claim that you "cannot sell" progressive radio here is a lie since two of the personalities heard there, Randi Rhodes and Ed Schltz are typically the ratings leaders in markets where they compete with what you want to put on in their place. Further, if you trash these airwaves, I, and many others will not merely tune in to the new format as if talk was a commodity. Instead, I will turn off the radio, dropping your listenership numbers.
eff	Reeder	3235	I consider myself to be a fiscal conservative, a social moderate, and a religious liberal. So from my perspective, the far left brings as little logic, reason and substance to rational political and social dialogue as the far right. And although I readily acknowledge the unfortunate excesses of rational thought and expression from some on the left, I also know the Columbus radio market badly needs more balance in this dialogue than we currently have, given the number of far right "radio voices" already inflicted on the central Ohio area. Sadly, WTPG will lose my support if they initiate this move to strip away the only local source of moderate and progressive radio commentary available to the majority of us who live in a world loaded with grey area. WTPG - Say it ain't so.
