I am a teacher and a parent. I teach technology and media literacy. This is a unique opportunity and it needs to be available to everyone. I am at a totally free lunch school ... that means most of my students can't afford to have in their home what they are taught to use at school. Take their opportunity to afford access and they will have such a small change of taking part.

I believe in net neutrality and in closing the digital divide! Do not let profit be the first motive ... think about the freedom of communication and expression. Do the right thing!!

Net Neutrality is essential to free speech, equal opportunity and economic innovation in America. Since the FCC removed this basic protection in 2005, the top executives of phone and cable companies have stated their intention to become the Internet's gatekeepers and to discriminate against Web sites that don't pay their added tolls.

This fundamental change would end the open Internet as we know it. It would damage my ability to connect with others, share information and participate in our 21st century democracy and economy. The FCC must ensure that broadband providers do not block, interfere with or discriminate against any lawful Internet traffic based on its ownership, source or destination.
