

Give Me A Break

I need the Internet to give me information that corporate-controlled television and newspapers will not cover. I need alternate points of view that the Internet provides. Give me access to the knowledge that allows me to be an informed citizen--give me a break.