

Don't ruin a great opportunity

My business relies upon the internet. The more open, fast , and accessible it is, the better we can serve our customers.

Playing to a few special interests may improve their bottom line, but it ruins business growth (and therefor tax growth) across a whole set of industries.

Don't believe the hype.