

Give Us Open Internet

Corporate America has no right to own our ability to connect to each other through any means. Open the internet for the public good. America is about freedom not corporate governance