

save the internet - give us back our airwaves

I have been able to start and run a successful business largely because of the internet. Having high bandwidth connections has enabled me to build opportunities and create jobs for others.

At a time of global competition where jobs are literally being shipped to other countries, we need resources like the internet to enable job creation.

Please help us to save the internet and keep it in the hands of we the taxpayers who paid for its creation in the first place. These are our airwaves and they should be kept free so they can enrich all of us and not just a few telecommunications companies.
