

The government must protect our airwaves from the same corporate gatekeepers that have stifled innovation and competition in Internet markets.

To restore America's leadership in high speed Internet services, the FCC must ensure that the upcoming auction sets aside at least 30 MHz of spectrum for open and non-discriminatory Internet access. This will guarantee that new entrants have the opportunity to enter the market in competition with incumbent providers.

It would be a big mistake to hand over these airwaves to the very same phone and cable companies that dominate the wireline market. We need more competition and innovation, not more of the same. This new wireless spectrum must be open and neutral so that America can build a better Internet for everyone.

---

Serious note here. Our government is becoming too much for its own good, and this country is "wussifying (for lack of a better word)" itself at an alarming rate. This should NOT all be about money or power. What about the greater good? What about the needs of the people, what about yours, mine and our freedoms? Those same freedoms that you the FCC, our senate, congress, and our government as a whole are removing from us??

I was under the impression that because I was born in America, I was a free man. I have slowly come to terms with the fact that this new form of democracy, is democracy in every sense of the word. It's a way for the things we love, to slowly make our lives horrible and to slowly wreck this beautiful country we have, in such a way as to make us look forward to it. I have opened my eyes, and I can't wait until, HOPEFULLY, the sheep in this country do the same.

Trying your best to remove our internet freedoms and privileges thereof is NOT a right you have. I am sick of having my freedoms twisted/removed. I wish there was something I could do, but short of a miracle, the majority of the idiots you people have created by dumbing down the system would never help, much less understand that there is a problem.

Truly ignorance is bliss, for the intelligent, you are raping our rights, our freedoms and our way of life.

Robert Terrell
d3f4ult@comcast.net