

We need freedom of expression and the ability to use the internet as a common and shared good among everyone in the United States. Handing over yet another mass medium for the mere purpose of making a profit is disgraceful and sickening. For once let our government stand up to the greedy and revolting corporations and say no, say no to the lobbyists, say no to any pressure not coming from the people.

Stand up, stop the madness, don't let another form of free information and entertainment become monopolized by mindless corporate CEO's that do not care about anything but profit.
