

I understand that 3rd world countries that now do not have land lines communication are rapidly going to cell phone communication on a grand scale and so should our rural areas have such service also.